A Little History

Recently I got my hands on Some newsletters from Dave Van Dyke from the 1970's. Interesting how some things stay applicable to present day. Take a step

GOOSEWING JIBES

By James C. VanDyke

The club has just completed what is generally accepted as the most successful and enjoyable racing season in its history. This is attributable to two factors, the participation of the members in racing activities and a superb job done by the racing committee directed by Ray Henney. Happily Ray has consented to captain the race committee again in 1974 so all we need now is a little assistance from Boreas and good participation. Having hung around sailing circles for years Old Goosewing can reiterate what he has said many times before, that is, the <sup>return in</sup> greatest/enjoyment from any sailboat is secured from racing. Even though a sailor doesn't participate in racing after a few initial seasons on the race course, he has learned to handle his boat with greater efficiency and confidence which can only add to his cruising enjoyment. So all beginning sailors, though you may not become racing fiends, you can gain much by entering the race program from the start. The old lament that "I don't know enough to race" is no excuse because the only way you can become competitive is to get out there, make a fool of yourself like we all did when we started. Now is the time to prepare for the coming season.
